2004-2005

System-wide Effects of Maximum Speed Limit Laws

UAB Injury Control Research Center, CDC

PI

This study examined tested whether increased maximum speed limit laws on rural interstate roads led to decreased driving fatalities on other roadways.

- 2004-2007     Impact of Changing Medicaid Policies on NH Quality
NIA, R01 AG023622
Site PI
The major goal of this project was to analyze the effect of state Medicaid policy on nursing home quality of care using risk-adjusted resident-level quality information from the national Minimum Data Set.
- 2005-2006     Do Payment Incentives Influence Use of Home Health Care among the Elderly?
Harvard Program on the Global Demography of Aging, NIA
PI
The Balanced Budget Act of 1997 changed Medicare home health eligibility and coverage rules and reformed the payment methodology by implementing a prospective payment system. Using data from multiple waves of the National Home and Hospice Care Survey, this project investigated whether these changes had implications for functional status, utilization, mortality, and discharge to a hospice or hospital.

Commonwealth Fund
Site PI
The major goals of this project were to analyze the costs, predictors and implications of potentially preventable nursing home hospitalizations using New York State data.
- 2007-2009     Impact of Assisted Living Growth on the Market for Nursing Home Care
Robert Wood Johnson Foundation
PI
The goals of this project were to document the growth of assisted living across markets in the United States and analyze the relationship between this growth and nursing home utilization.
- 2008-2009     Is Nursing Home Quality Affected by Corporate Structure?
Assistant Secretary for Planning and Evaluation
Co-Investigator
Through its Ownership Management and Tracking (OMT) system, the state of Texas has collected detailed data around nursing home ownership and management structures that could offer useful examples for federal policymakers and other states to consider. Using the Texas OMT data, this project analyzed the corporate structures of nursing homes in Texas and how they have changed over time.
- 2006-2010     Disparities in Nursing Home Care by Race and Payer Status
NIA, K01 AG24403
PI
The goal of this career development award was to provide further experience and training in nursing home quality and measurement. Using national administrative data over multiple years, the research project examined the underlying explanations for disparities in quality within and across nursing homes by payer status and race.
- 2007-2011     Nursing Home Ownership and Quality of Care: Current Issues and Future Challenges

J.W. Kieckhefer Foundation

Co-PI

The nursing home industry has undergone important changes in terms of ownership conversions and increased private equity investment. The purpose of this project is to examine the implications of these changes on different quality and cost outcomes.

- 2007-2012 UPR-CHA Research Center of Excellence: Making a Difference for Latino Health
UPR/NCMHD, NIH P60MD002261
Co-Investigator
The purpose of this Center is to reduce disparities in health and health services for Latinos, through projects involving patient activation and provider education in asthma and mental health care. In addition, research will measure disparities in substance abuse and conduct a small project on mental health disparities in nursing homes.
- 2008-2011 Leveraging Medicare Payment and Reporting Policies to Improve Nursing Home Quality
NIA, R01 AG030079
PI
A series of policy changes have greatly expanded Medicare's coverage of post-acute nursing home care in recent years. Despite important differences in the needs of chronic and post-acute nursing home populations, quality of care within a facility has characteristics of a "public good" shared across all residents. The central implication of this observation is that Medicare resources—and policies directed at improving care for Medicare residents—may spillover to other residents. This project develops and applies a framework for evaluating the implications of Medicare's increasing involvement in this market.
- 2008-2012 Evaluation of the Nursing Home Value Based Purchasing Demonstration
Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services, NVBPD-200 8-02
Site PI
Dr. Grabowski is leading a Harvard team in the evaluation of the CMS Nursing Home Value Based Purchasing Demonstration. Specifically, they will conduct analyses of administrative data to evaluate the Demonstration in terms of the validity of the experiment, the structure of the reward payments and the implications of the demonstration for quality and costs.
- 2007-2011 Post-Acute Costs and Outcomes after Medicare's Reimbursement Changes
NIA, R01 AG031260
Co-Investigator
Each year, more than ten million Medicare beneficiaries are discharged from acute care hospitals into post-acute care settings including inpatient rehabilitation facilities, skilled nursing facilities, and homes with services from home health agencies. Whether beneficiaries receive post-acute care and the type and intensity of care they receive is profoundly influenced by Medicare's methods of payment. Consequently, payment changes will certainly affect the outcomes of post-acute care. How large those effects are and how they operate, however, are virtually unknown. The goal of this study is to answer these important questions.
- 2009-2011 Selection and the Quality Impact of Nursing Home Ownership

NIA, R01 AG034179

PI

Although a large literature examines for-profit and nonprofit nursing home quality, the vast majority of the existing studies are limited in that they fail to address differential selection across for-profit and nonprofit nursing homes. By using "differential distance" to the nearest nonprofit nursing home relative to the nearest for-profit nursing home, we can mimic randomization of residents into more or less "exposure" to nonprofit homes when estimating the effects of ownership on quality of care.

2010-2011 Telemedicine and Nursing Home Hospitalizations

Commonwealth Fund

PI

This study evaluates a randomized intervention of two-way video conferencing within a Massachusetts nursing home chain on the hospitalization of nursing home residents.

2011 Home Health Study and Report

Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services

Site PI

This study consists of analyzing issues and concerns associated with the current the Medicare Home Health Prospective Payment System. Activities include reviewing the current case mix algorithm, reviewing comments related to the current case mix algorithm, and proposing alternatives to the case mix algorithm.

2011-2013 Health Care Expenditures for Nursing Home Residents with Advanced Dementia

NIA, R21 AG039658

Co-PI with Susan Mitchell (Hebrew Senior Life)

We leverage the unique CASCADE dataset by linking it to Medicare and Medicaid claims files in order to describe and examine factors associated with the expenditures on care for nursing home residents with advanced dementia.

2011-2014 Public Policy and the Demand for Long-Term Care Insurance

NIA, R01 AG041109

Co-PI with David Stevenson (HMS)

By shedding light on the key factors that influence the demand for the private long-term care (LTC) insurance and the early experience of the LTC Partnership program, our analyses will offer key insights for policymakers as they implement and refine the government's approach to the financing of long-term care.

2011-2015 Green House Evaluation: Impact on Costs and Quality

Robert Wood Johnson Foundation

PI

Using linked administrative data for the period 2005-2010, this study examines the characteristics of facilities adopting the Green House culture change model, and the implications of this model for the costs and quality of care.

2012-2015 Improving Nursing Home Compare for Dually Eligible Consumers

AHRQ, R21 HS021866

Co-Investigator

This study will examine whether and to what extent duals have benefited less from public reporting and to assess several primary obstacles to effective use of public reporting by dually eligible individuals.
